

Hardik Singh, Product Manager at HEBI Robotics, will talk about using virtual springs that are created using impedance control in the context of robotic arms. Hardik will also do a live demonstration of using virtual controls to create stiffness in the cartesian space on a robotic arm.