

Samuel Detzel, Research Assistant and PhD candidate from TU Munich, will discuss the modular robotics research that is currently taking place at the Institute of Micro Technology and Medical Devices (MIMED). HEBI technology is being used by MIMED to both teach lab courses and perform exciting ground-breaking research.