

Two different industrial applications will be described in this video. First, Mauricio Calva a Nondestructive Examination Expert from the Chevron Energy Technology Company will discuss his recent work with robotics and industrial inspection tasks. Then, we will present a project that Westinghouse worked on utilizing HEBI Robotics components.